Terms and Conditions of Sale

4. Delivery

- 4.1 Any date quoted for delivery shall be approximate only and the Supplier shall not be liable for any damages, loss or expense of Customer for a delay in shipping or delivery however caused. If a time for shipping or delivery is stated in the Order it shall not be of the essence.
- 4.2 Where the Goods are to be delivered in instalments, a delivery shall constitute a separate contract. Any failure by the Supplier to make any delivery or part delivery of any instalment or any claim by the Customer in respect of any one or more instalments shall not entitle the Customer to withhold payment in respect of any delivery already made or treat the Order as a whole as repudiated.
- 4.3 Delivery shall take place at the Supplier's premises (the "Place of Delivery"), unless otherwise stated in the Order.
- 4.4 If the Customer fails to take delivery of the Goods at the Place of Delivery [or to give delivery instructions within 14 days after notification from the Supplier of readiness to despatch, then (without prejudice to any other claim or remedy which the Supplier may have) the Supplier shall be entitled as follows to:
 - a) treat the payment for the Order as having become due;
 - b) store the Goods at any premises until actual delivery entirely at the Customer's expense and risk. If the Customer fails to pay the charges for such warehousing, then the Supplier shall have the right to sell all or any of the Goods to defray the cost of sale and warehousing and charge the Customer any difference between the proceeds of sale and the price of the Goods stated in the Order.

5. Payment and Credit Terms

- 5.1 Payment must be made in full by electronic bank transfer within 30 days from the date of the Supplier's invoice for each delivery, subject to credit approval by the Supplier. If payment is not made in full by the due date, then the Supplier shall (without prejudice to any other rights) be entitled as follows to:
 - a) terminate the Order in which case the Customer shall have no claim whatsoever against the Supplier;
 - b) suspend further deliveries of Goods and work on Goods that have not yet been delivered under the Order;
 - c) charge interest from the date when payment became due through to the date of actual payment at a rate equal to the lesser of 2% per annum above the [then-applicable HSBC Bank USA base lending rate or the maximum amount permitted by law on the unpaid balance, together with the costs of collection and attorneys' fees.
- 5.2 If the Customer defaults in making any payment to the Supplier or the Supplier receives information which, in the Supplier's judgment, throws doubt on the creditworthiness of the Customer, then the Supplier shall have the right to:
 - a) demand immediate payment of all outstanding invoices and to demand payment on account for Orders which have been acknowledged by the Supplier but for which invoices have not yet been submitted. If payment in advance is not made in respect of such Orders the Supplier may, without any liability whatsoever, cancel such Orders.

6. Description and Performance; Acceptance of Goods

- 6.1 Drawings, descriptive matter, illustrations, weights, dimensions, and specifications issued by the Supplier (collectively, the "Performance Figures") are intended to be accurate but are approximate only and do not constitute any condition or warranty. Except as described in Section 6.3, the Supplier shall not be liable for failure of the Goods to meet any Performance Figures it provides.
- 6.2 The Supplier reserves the right at its absolute discretion at any time to change any specification issued by it.
- 6.3 If the Goods do not meet the Performance Figures in a material respect (which shall be determined in the Supplier's sole discretion), the Supplier shall have the opportunity to rectify the failure. If the failure cannot be rectified, or if the Supplier fails to rectify the failure, the Customer may either reject or accept the Goods.

- 6.4 Subject to Section 11, the Supplier shall not be liable to the Customer for any loss (including consequential loss) damage, cost, or expense suffered or incurred by the Customer directly or indirectly as a result of a failure to meet the Performance Figures.

7. Inspection

- 7.1 The Supplier shall not be responsible for carrying out any tests to the Goods unless specifically required to do so on terms agreed in writing between the Supplier and the Customer. Any such testing or inspection requirements may result in an additional charge to the Customer.

8. Warranty

- 8.1 Except as set forth in section 8.2, the supplier makes no warranty regarding goods delivered under any order and disclaims all other warranties, express or implied, whether created by contract or by operation of law, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. Any recommendation or suggestion relating to the use, storage, handling or properties of the products supplied by MIDEL & MIVOLT Fluids inc. Or any member of its group, either in sales and technical literature or in response to a specific enquiry or otherwise, is given in good faith but it is for the customer to satisfy itself of the suitability of the product for its own particular purposes and to ensure that the product is used correctly and safely in accordance with the manufacturer's written instructions. MIDEL & MIVOLT instructions and guidance sheets can be found at the Product websites of www.midel.com and www.mivolt.com.

- 8.2 The Supplier warrants that the Goods will conform to the specifications at the time of delivery to the Customer. If, within a 12 month period from the date of despatch of the Goods a defect (as defined as a material deviation from the specifications) in the Goods is found to exist and reported to the Supplier in writing, the Supplier will, at its sole option, repair or replace the defective goods free of charge provided they are returned appropriately packed and carriage paid to the Supplier's premises. The Supplier shall not be under any liability to repair or replace the Goods if:

- a) damages are sustained in transit;
- b) the defect is a result of ordinary wear and tear;
- c) the defect is a result of wilful damage or negligence of the Customer;
- d) if the Goods have been used for a purpose other than those for which they are designed;
- e) if repairs to the Goods have been attempted by the Customer or a third party without the Supplier's approval;
- f) if the total price of the Goods has not been paid in full by the due date;
- g) if the defect is attributable to the specification provided by the Customer; or
- h) if the Customer has not promptly notified the Supplier of its discovery of the defect

- 8.3 The Supplier has reasonable grounds to believe that it has ensured, as far as reasonably practicable, that its Goods are manufactured so that they will be safe when properly used by appropriately trained personnel. Nevertheless the Goods should only be used for the purpose they are designed and in accordance with any written instructions or advice from the Supplier.

9. Damage, Shortage or Loss in Transit

- 9.1 In the event the Supplier agrees that the Place of Delivery an Order not the Suppliers own or contracted premises, The Company shall not be liable for any claim for non-delivery, partial or full loss or damage to the Goods unless the Customer has notified the Supplier in writing (copied to the carrier):-

- a) within 7 days of receipt of the Goods for partial loss or damage;
- b) within 14 days of the date of despatch of the Goods for loss or non-delivery.

- 9.2 If the Supplier accepts the Customer's claim the Supplier shall be entitled, at its sole discretion to repair or replace the Goods.
